

How Trucking Proud Insurance Can Help

The business world is focused on how to survive this immediate attack on our otherwise prospering economy. At Trucking Proud Insurance Agency (TPIA) we understand this is the focus and we have quickly tailored resources to help trucking carriers navigate the turbulence in a variety of ways.

1. COVID-19 Employee Nurse Triage

We have received feedback that employers are often unsure how to proceed with an employee who brings forth a case of COVID-19 with a claim that it was contracted at work. TPIA has created an easy to use process for these cases.

We have adapted our Claims Cost Containment (CCC) system to accommodate specific calls related to COVID-19. After the employee informs you that there is a concern regarding COVID-19 and they believe it was contracted at work, you will have them utilize our nurse phone line. The nurse will question the employee and provide direction for testing or treatment. Information will also be provided to you (the employer) on how to handle the case and file a work comp claim.

When you use CCC our claims team is immediately integrated into the process. Our Director of Claims, Amy Saldivar, is in communication with the WCIRB as well as many of the law firms handling the defense of litigation regarding this topic. TPIA will help you navigate these waters as the exposure takes shape.

2. Access Government Funding

TPIA is conducting a webinar on 4/2 at 2pm PT to help trucking carriers understand if they qualify for funds. There are specific provisions for those companies with less than 500 employees as well as $25 billion ear marked for the trucking industry.

You can find access to the webinar on the Trucking Proud Facebook page, Linkedin page or reach out via the information below for a copy of the recording.

3. Navigating Employment Matters - Layoffs, Furloughs, FMLA

Trucking Proud conducted a 3-part series over the past three weeks with regard to navigation of the difficult decisions employers need to make to remain solvent.

If you missed any of these webinars please reach out via the information below and we can send you recordings of the presentation or connect you with the appropriate attorneys.

4. Financial Planning During a Crisis and Potential Recession

TPIA (C3) has a unique seat at the table to garner insight with the state department and other high-level government personnel. These individuals are involved with managing the crisis, financial planning to support the economy and national security.

Our clients know how to run their businesses. However, we are getting feedback that there is comfort in learning what other businesses are doing to handle this unusual time. As such, we are sharing a simple and easy to use P&L forecasting map that we use for our own purposes. The intent is to not provide financial advice, but rather share our experience in how we plan future decisions around economic turmoil.

This webinar will be on 4/9 at 11am PT and will be published on Facebook and Linkedin.
